Meet one of our dedicated Live Oak Clinic volunteers - Jennifer Kolthammer - who has been with the clinic since its early days.

Jennifer's tasks at the clinic are varied and touch on all aspects of its operation. She keeps an eye on the computers and our electronic medical records system, as well as creating paper forms and procedures. On any given clinic night or even at times between clinics, Jennifer is the one summoned to troubleshoot or lend a hand to keep things running smoothly.

Originally hailing from British Columbia, Jennifer and her husband Brian have lived in Lake Jackson continuously since 1986. Their grown children live in Canada, England, and the US. Her other interests include volunteering at the LJ Library and spearheading the genealogy group that meets there, traveling to family, and hiking and birding.

Asked why she enjoys being a Live Oak Clinic volunteer, Jen said, "It's important for everyone to keep learning new things. At the clinic, there is always something to learn. It's satisfying to work with great people at an organization that has an important purpose in the community and to see our positive impact on patients' well-being."

[ Our Volunteers give great care ]

When Live Oak Clinic opened 9 years ago, one of the most challenging volunteer tasks was “the computers”. Now everyone in the clinic uses computers and the people we originally called “the computer volunteers” do so much more.

Our group is critical to the flow of a clinic evening, functioning much as the office staff does in your doctor’s office. We greet patients, check their contact information, make appointments, receive and send faxes, order lab tests, collect payments, and make sure patients leave with a positive feeling and know what they need to do before their next clinic visit.

We also collect data such as volunteer hours, patient visits, demographics, services provided, labs orders, and referrals. This data is used many ways, for instance to plan scheduling of medical providers and for grant applications.

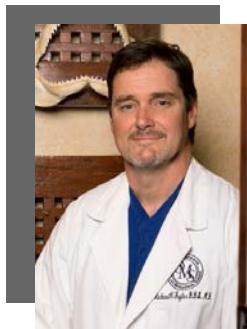

Through volunteering at Live Oak Clinic, we have become good friends and look forward to taking our turn at "the computers".

The terrific computers volunteers are Jackie Brewer, Jennifer Kolthammer, Lana Mauro, Jeanine Meyer, Linda Miles and Irene Standard.
