

HLAA San Diego Announces “Hearing” Community Outreach Presentations “Customized” For Your Organization

Would your organization like a program in what’s new in hearing instruments, taught by our resident technology expert, Dr. David Ward, graduate of the HLAA trainer program?

The following program is available to your organization:

When Good Ears Go Bad ...HOW TO HEAR AGAIN!

Are you (or someone you love) among the millions of U.S. adults who could benefit from using hearing aids or the new "Inexpensive" amplification systems? If so, join us to learn about how to hear better using the new “State-of-the-Art” hearing devices.

The 2017 "Over the Counter Hearing Aid Act" allows adults with "perceived" mild-to moderate hearing loss to buy less expensive hearing devices without having to see a medical professional. "Hearables," "wearables," and new kinds of amplifier, and microphones that allow you to hear in a noisy environment may allow some people to not even need a $7,500 hearing aid.

Dr. David L. Ward, currently serves as the San Diego representative for the Hearing Loss Association of America in charge of their community outreach program. The HLAA represents 48 million members, providing information, support and advocacy to people with hearing loss. They introduce their members to new technology that can aid them in learning to hear better. David is also hearing impaired and will share some of his own personal experiences with you.

Some of David's previous presentations and clients include: Coronado Library, Leisureland Retirement Village, Wesley Palms San Diego Retirement Community, Casa de las Campanas Retirement Community, Jewish Family Services, Hamilton Relay Captioning Services, Deaf Community Services, La Jolla Library, Osher Lifelong Learning Institute, Herrick Community Health Care Library.

David will provide you with an "informational” presentation on this subject. Nothing will be for sale at this event.
