The Advantage Of Your Own Dot Com

- A. Investment Competitive Advantage.
- If you own your company, you should carefully select your domain name, as it represents both your storefront and your online address. It should be a name that your customers can remember and use to identify your brand.

I don't need to tell you the importance of commerce on the Internet. In this environment, you need to enhance and protect the value of your company's name.

You are probably like the vast majority of people who constantly need to give out their business telephone number, fax number, and Internet addresses (work, educational, or personal). Unfortunately, there is nothing in common between them.

Thus, you might consider making your telephone number as your email address (e.g., 800-FLOWERS). You can do that by acquiring or trading part of these business ad-dresses to make sure that your business is more visible and more memorable in the minds of your customers.

$ and Fun!

Why not make money while having fun? You can double your fun and become your friends' envy by having a matching vanity license plate number with a domain-name. And the fun goes on and on and
